THE SPEAKING IS ON OUR CONSUL KILLED

Colonel John K. Hendrick, of Paducah, Talking Today.

Powers' Speech Will Begin This Evening and Terminate Tomorrow.

A FATHER'S PLEA TO DOCTORS

SPEECHES BEING MADE.

Georgetown, Ky., August 27.—For eight and one-half hours yesterday and last night the jury trying Caleb Powers listened to argument of Commonwealth and defense counsel in the case. Attorneys J. R. Morton and Samuel Wilson of the defense, and Attorney John K. Hendricks, counsel for the state, spoke. Mr. Hendricks resumed this morning and will be followed by D. K. Rawlings of the defense. Attorney Campbell and the defendant Powers will occupy the rest of the trial. Powers' speech will be concluded Friday morning and State's Attorney Franklin will conclude during the afternoon.

The line of argument of the defense counsel is that the convict, Henry Yontsey, of his own volition, did the killing, and that their client had no connection whatever in the affair further than to take the mountain men to Frankfort to petition the general assembly.

THE FATHER PRERE

FERRED DEATH.

St. Louis, Mo., August 27.—"Give the boy carbolic acid and put him out of his misery," was the prayer made by the father of little Joseph Hammer to the physicians operating upon the youth, who had been run over by an Iron Mountain train. Joe is 14, and his arm was taken off at the shoulder and his leg a few inches below the body. He can not wear an artificial leg, as there is nothing to which it can be attached, nor can he hold a crutch under the stump of his arm. As both the lost arm and the leg are on the right side, this makes the case even the more pitiable.

WOMAN FAILED TO APPEAR.

Cairo, Ill., August 27.—What promised to be a sensational breach of promise suit fell through today because the woman in the case weakened. She is Miss Nellie Devitt, and she is trying to induce John McKee, a wealthy farmer of near Rector, Ark., to marry her. Miss Devitt is McKee's sister-in-law. When his wife died last year he sent for her to come down from Chicago and be his housekeeper. She says that he promised to marry her, and that when he met her last December he introduced her as his wife at Rector. Now she wants him to keep his promise and he refuses. A criminal proceeding was instituted against him here today, but at the last moment the woman weakened and refused to testify against him.

THE HORSE FOUND—Deputy Sheriff Wm. Lydon left his horse standing hitched to a tree at the ball park yesterday and when he went out found the animal gone. His little girl had taken the animal to go driving and his alarms were quieted when he reached home.

SUNDAY SERVICES—There will be preaching at the Broadway Methodist church Sunday morning by Rev. H. B. Johnston, presiding elder of the Paducah district of the Methodist church and in the evening by Rev. J. W. Irion.

Turks Will Now Find Themselves Wading in Trouble.

Also Reported That Vice Consul Has Been Killed by the Turks.

OTHER NEWS BY TELEGRAPH.

OUR CONSUL ASSASSINATED.

Beirut, Syria, Aug. 27.—William C. Magelssen, United States consul, was assassinated here this morning by unknown Turks.

FILES ARTICLES.

Frankfort, Aug. 27.—The Paducah Mineral company today filed its articles of incorporation, capital four thousand dollars.

REPORTED ASSASSINATION.

London, Aug. 27.—It is rumored that the Vice Consul to Turkey has been assassinated.

HIS TROUBLES MULTIPLY.

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 27.—The troubles of former minister B. A. Cherry, of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, are accumulating. He has been arrested and placed under bond at Winchester to answer charges of perjury and forgery preferred by the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis railway, in connection with a land transaction. Cherry has executed bond in the sum of $1,000 to answer the charge of subornation of perjury and $5,000 for his appearance on the charge of arson. In the land transaction it is claimed that Cherry mutilated the records in the county registers' office in order to accomplish his purpose.

SLIPPED AGAIN

ILLINOIS NEGRESS WORKS THE RABBIT'S FOOT ON THE SHERIFF.

Jailer L. L. Jones this morning received a letter from Sheriff Smith, of Metropolis, Ill., stating that he had arrested Ellen Parker, colored, but that she had given him the slip, too, as she had others.

Sheriff Smith stated that he left Metropolis Monday afternoon late and proceeded to the house where he had located the Parker woman, and arrested her easily enough. She was scantily attired and asked the sheriff if she could go in another room and dress. The unsuspecting sheriff granted her permission and after waiting some time decided she was making rather an extensive toilet and went in to investigate, only to find her gone.

He returned to Metropolis greatly disgruntled but thinks he will locate her again soon.

The Parker woman escaped from Jailer Jones here more than a year ago and was located near Metropolis several weeks later. Jailer Jones in attempting to arrest her came near being killed by her brothers and she remained in hiding until recently when the Metropolis officer located her.

IN GALA ATTIRE.

PADUCAH WILL BE COPIOUSLY DECORATED FOR RED MEN'S CARNIVAL.

The present indications are that Paducah will be more uniformly and extensively decorated for the Red Men's festival here in October than at any time in her history. A large number of merchants have signified their intention of decorating on a large scale this time, and the Red Men's Amusement association, after fully considering the matter last night, decided to offer two prizes to the business houses putting up the best and most elaborate fronts.

The first prize will be fifteen dollars in gold and the second prize ten dollars in gold, to be decided by a committee of three.

Mr. Henry Weimer, of Rudy and Phillips, is chairman of the Red Men's committee on decorations.

Miss Annie Halpin has returned from a two week's visit to Cincinnati.

WILL THIS BE THE PUNISHMENT?

President Harper—"Paw, That Russian's Calling Me Names!" Mr. Rockefeller—"Leave Him to Me My Boy, I'll Fix Him."

SHOWS HER HEELS AGAIN

The Reliance Has the Best of It From the Start.

11:41: The boats seem to be standing still.

11:42: Reliance seems to have picked up a puff of wind and is moving very fast, both are on port tack now with Reliance gaining very rapidly.

11:50: In the memory of the yachtsmen an English skipper never was so badly defeated as Captain Wringe was at the start today.

11:52: Reliance is about 3-4 minutes in lead and gaining slowly but steadily.

12:20: It looks now as if the yachts would finish in time limit.

12:40: Reliance is still gaining and is about two minutes ahead. She has again demonstrated today that in a smooth sea and fair winds she has the challenger beaten at every point, both in sailing and seamanship.

12:45: Reliance will win race barring a fluke.

12:50: The contest can hardly be called exciting for Reliance has the lead so well in hand that it might better be called a procession.

1: Yachts are now about four miles from the outer mark. Are on starboard tack and Reliance is making further gains to windward. Wind has freshened to eight knots. Reliance holds her position and is four minutes in lead.

1:50: Yachts have turned outer mark. Reliance six minutes to good.

Nothing further was received of the race up to press time and it was believed that it would not be finished in the time limit.

WILL RETURN TOMORROW

REV. W. H. PINKERTON COMPLETES TWO MONTHS' TOUR OF EUROPE.

Rev. W. H. Pinkerton, pastor of the First Christian church, will return home tomorrow after a two months' trip abroad.

Mr. Pinkerton stopped at Ghent, Ky., and Harriman, Tenn., en route home to visit relatives. He made a tour of the European continent, visiting many points of interest.

FELL AND BROKE ARM—The little child of Mr. J. N. Moore, of 912 Tennessee street, fell off the steps of the porch at its father's residence and broke its right arm. Dr. Reddick attended it.

JEALOUS FEMALE

MORTALLY WOUNDS A MAN IN THE PRESENCE OF HIS FAMILY.

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 27.—Frank Tangenbaugh, a floorwalker in the employ of Frederick and Nelson, was shot and fatally wounded in his own lodgings shortly after midnight this morning by Mrs. H. E. Finley, a stenographer. The shooting took place in the presence of Tangenbaugh's wife and 6-year-old child. Jealousy is believed to be the cause.

ONE RECRUIT—One recruit was received today at the local U. S. army recruiting station in the Y. M. C. A. building. He is Walter S. Dillworth, of Woodville.

PRIMARY IS NEAR MANY WANT DAMAGES

Ticket Supposed to be Advocated by Law and Order Men.

Some Democrats Have No Intention of Supporting Nominees if They Do Not Suit.

A LIST OF THE ENTRIES

There is a great deal of interest manifested now in the approaching Democratic primary in Paducah, and it appears a lively contest will result. The list is now closed, and both sides will soon be actively engaged in campaigning.

It seems to be the general opinion that the race for mayor will be between Mayor D. A. Yeiser and Councilman Joe Potter. The former has the local machine built up pretty solidly, and the ramifications of his influence extend into many quarters, while Councilman Potter has the church element, and in addition the Lang element of the party. Mr. Lang, former mayor, as is well known, became estranged from his old friend Dr. Yeiser two years ago in municipal matters, and it is a fight to the finish now. Dr. Lang has thrown his strength to Councilman Potter, and it seems this is one of the principal things Mayor Yeiser has to fear.

In the other races nothing is certain. All the candidates, as usual, claim victory, and somebody is certain to be sorely disappointed.

It seems from talk indulged in by many prominent men, and even politicians, that a new kind of ethics is going to be infused into the campaign. "We are going into this primary," boasted one today, "to try and have the men we favor nominated. These men are running for nominations which may result in their getting into public office, and as good citizens we are trying to see that men we consider unworthy do not get even a chance to break into office, and we are going into this primary to try and beat those kind of fellows. If men we prefer to those nominated in the primary, however, are subsequently nominated by some other party, as good citizens we will be for them. You can say further that in case men we do not believe are proper persons for the places are not nominated by any party an independent ticket will be put out and we will vote for men we think are worthy."

It is said that the following is Colonel Potter's ticket, and is the one members of the Good Government league will vote for, on the supposition that the candidates are pledged to support an ordinance similar to the 10-30 law. The Good Government league as a league, however, has not endorsed anyone yet. The ticket is: Councilmen: First ward, B. B. Breeden, W. A. Downs, Second ward, Joe B. Flisch, William Hoffman; Third ward, J. S. Jackson, A. J. Decker; Fourth ward, J. B. Bacon, Young Taylor; Fifth ward, J. W. Biglesberger, George Jacobs; Sixth ward, L. B. Watson, R. J. Wilson. Aldermen: J. A. Bauer, W. E. Covington, Alonzo Elliott, R. G. Terrell, R. J. Settle, J. Crit Jones, Charles Smith and J. V. Greif.

It is not known whether the above is correct or not, but the list was given out by a prominent member of the league. Some of them, it is said, have declined to run and say they would not accept if elected, but this also is only a rumor.

The entire list of candidates in the Democratic primary is as follows:

Mayor—D. A. Yeiser, Joe E. Potter, Joe Randall.
City Clerk—W. H. Patterson, Henry Bailey.
City Treasurer—M. W. Johnson, I. N. Anderson, J. Henry Smith.
City Attorney—G. C. Duignid, J. M. Gilbert, T. B. Harrison, W. P. McCartney.
City Solicitor—Jesse Moss, Oscar Kahn, Ed H. Puryear.
City Engineer—L. A. Washington.
City Assessor—W. T. Byrd, F. S. Diegel, W. S. Dick.
City Jailor—Tom J. Evitts, Tom J. Potter, R. S. Menifee, Wm. T. Read, James F. Crow.

Suits Filed for Various Amounts Today.

Woman Asks $2,000 for Being Thrown Down in Car Aisle on Illinois Central.

DIVORCE PROCEEDINGS FILED

The following suits were this morning filed by Attorneys Hendricks and Miller in circuit court:

Louisa Parrish against the I. C. railroad company to recover $2,000 damages. She states that she got on a train at Kuttawa and wanted to go to Grand Rivers and that the aisle of the car was obstructed by valises and telescopes so that when she attempted to pass and gain a seat the train started and threw her in against a seat and to the floor of the car. She further states that she was at the time in a delicate condition and that the injuries were very painful and confined her to the bed for many weeks.

Ida Bell Street against Alcy Street, for divorce and the restoration of her maiden name, Ida Bell Hart, on the grounds of abandonment. She states that they were married in July and that the defendant abandoned her in 1901 in December.

Gus Jackson against the I. C. railroad. The plaintiff states that he was injured at the Jefferson street railroad crossing while trying to stop his horse, which had become frightened at a locomotive. He asks for $1,500 damages.

W. V. Keebler against the I. C. railroad company. Plaintiff alleges that he was mangled by a heavy plate while working in the machine shops here, due to the carelessness of the company and asks for $2,000 damages.

Aldermen—L. E. Durrett, W. E. Covington, J. Crit Jones, J. V. Greif, Wm. Kraus, Charles Reed, R. Rowland, R. G. Terrell, A. Elliott, A. W. Greif, R. J. Settle, Charles Smith, Dick Davis, H. M. Orme, J. Andy Bauer, Gus G. Singleton.

Councilman, First Ward—W. D. Downs, D. L. Adams, Al Hymarsh, B. B. Breeden, Fred Gallman.

There was once a time when Cairo could draw a grand stand full of people in Paducah but that was earlier in the season, when it was not so evident to Paducah fans that the team supported by the local association is a losing team. Cairo has beaten Paducah so often this season that it was not worth while to go out yesterday and see her do it again. There was accordingly only a few people there to witness the game, and Paducah lost it by a score of 8 to 4, although it was not such a bad game after all. Old Reliable Wallace was on hand with one of his over-the-fence home runs for the visitors, and Paducah's first baseman followed suit in the same inning.

Ray's one handed catch of a high fly from Conklin's bat was one of the few features of the game. Best pitched for Paducah, thus shelving Paducah's crack pitcher for the rest of the series, instead of saving him for Brockett, the crack twirler of the Egyptian, who has already won three games from Paducah this season.

BASEBALL NOTES.

Brockett and Witt will pitch this afternoon for Cairo. If a double header is arranged, then both men will pitch.

The Sun has paid out $15 to Paducah players for knocking home runs. Five dollars was given for Ray's and Benke's got two $5 bills, one today. As the boys have broken the ice now, the offer is withdrawn and only $1 will be given hereafter.

Myatt, formerly with Clarksville, has been signed by Hopkinsville, according to the Leaf-Chronicle, and will report today. He has been pitching good ball since coming to this league. "Sunny" Jim" Watts, Richardson and Henson are not with the team any more.

Kenney Murray, of Paducah, and formerly of the Paducah team, lost the game for Jackson yesterday by dropping a fly ball and letting in three scores.

Paducah has secured a new pitcher from Little Rock, Ark., in the person of Charlie Doyle, late of the Cairo team. Doyle was pitching phenomenal ball for Cairo but was not retained on account of the salary he wanted, Cairo not agreeing to pay enough. Doyle will probably be seen in the box today.

Rube Waddell, the most sensational southpaw pitcher in the country, has been released by Philadelphia and it is said will never play ball in fast company again. He can't stand prosperity and refuses to take care of himself. His manager appealed to him repeatedly to brace up but he failed and Tuesday was suspended for the remainder of the season and released.

The games Cairo has won from Paducah with Brockett pitching were: June 24, 1 to 0, when only five hits were made off him; July 26, 10 to 1, when only five hits were made; June 28, 7 to 3, 11 innings, ten hits. He struck out in the three games 81 men and only 20 hits were made off him. The only four games Brockett has lost this season are: One to Henderson, two to Clarksville and one to Hopkinsville. And all four games netted only 27 hits off him, while he struck out 37 men. This is pitching some.

It is said that one of the Paducah baseball players stated if they paid him enough money here he would get in condition to play good ball and keep that way. He does not think the salary will justify him, however, in keeping up a regular course of training, and for that reason stays in bad shape. If a player has any such idea as this he ought to forthwith be fired. One fault of the Paducah club has always been that the players don't, as a roster expressed it, seem "to give a d—". If a man accepts a position at any salary he ought to do as well as he would if the salary were twice as much.

POSTAL INSPECTORS

NEW ASSIGNMENTS TO BE MADE IN KENTUCKY.

Several Postoffice Inspectors are in Louisville waiting for the arrival of Postoffice Inspector Vickery, in charge of the Cincinnati division, and one of the best sleuths among all the postal detectives. Mr. Vickery will be here in a few days to confer with the inspectors with a view of making a re-assignment of territory.

Since the transfer of Inspector Kyle to Washington, inspection work has been in an unsettled condition in Kentucky. Inspector Hosford has been doing some temporary work, and Inspector Susong has been doing some special work on several cases, which will soon be brought to a close.

Mr. Vickery is expected before the first of the week.

A LONG- FELT WANT.

IT IS SUPPLIED AT LAST IN PADUCAH.

Good natured people are often irritable. If you knew the reason you would not be surprised.

Ever have itching piles? Not sick enough to go to bed; not well enough to be content.

The constant itching sensation. Hard to bear; harder to get relief. Spoils your temper, nearly drives you crazy.

Isn't relief and cure a long-felt want.

You can have relief and cure if you will follow the advice of a local citizen.

J. R. Womble, of 1005 South Fourth street, carpenter by trade, says: "For six years itching hemorrhoids were the bane of my existence. During the day when overheated I suffered and at night my rest was disturbed. I tried everything which I read or which friends and acquaintances advised me to try, still the hemorrhoids existed. The first application of Doan's Ointment procured at DuBois & Co.'s drug store gave me relief. After the second day's treatment I slept the succeeding night like a child. It is nearly three months since I stopped the use of Doan's Ointment and there has been no sign of a return. This should leave no doubt in the minds of Paducah people about the merits claimed for that preparation."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no substitute.

TOMORROW THE DAY

The Small Boy Will Indeed be Happy.

The Big Circus Will Come to Paducah and Give Two Performances.

BIG CROWD IS EXPECTED

Tomorrow is the day the small boy has been waiting for these many weeks. He showed passing interest in the opening of the baseball season, but the circus posters have had him hypnotized ever since they have been on the bill boards. Now the circus is coming. It will be here on schedule time early tomorrow morning and performances will be given both afternoon and night.

And it is a great big circus—a combination of the great how organized and operated by the late Adam Forepaugh and that of the equally as well known Sells Brothers.

The circus opened its season at St. Louis a few weeks ago, and speaking of the performance one of the St. Louis papers said: "It is unique. There is no spectacle; there is no striving after new or odd changes; no straining for innovations. Every act presented is a real circus act. It is a tremendously big show—but a circus all the time. Its essence lies in its big, heavy feature acts and the apparatus necessary to produce them. This is its distinguishing trait, and lifts it out of the rut and sets it over in a class of its own."

And whisper—Diavolo, the bright scintillating star of a constellation, will positively appear at both performances. Diavolo's performance of looping the loop on a bicycle is pointed to as the greatest circus feature ever seen under a tent. The posters depicting the act have caused no amount of comment, and many wagers have been made pro and con relative to the possibility of a man on a bicycle performing such a feat. The managers of the circus state that any doubting Thomas will be convinced when the show appears here. A short time ago Diavolo's understudy met with probably fatal injuries while attempting to perform the feat at St. Louis, but this accident has not affected Diavolo's nerve.

Among other features attention is called to the performance of the Aurora Zouaves, heralded as the best drilled soldiers in the world. Local military organizations are much interested in this exhibition.

The famous Eddy family of seven sensational acrobats are a feature of the show.

There will be every sort of act that a well regulated show should have and many features that no other circus presents.

WATCH FOR A CHILL.

However slight at this time of the year and in this climate, it is the forerunner of malaria. A disposition to yawn and an all-tired-out feeling even comes before the chill. Herbine, by its prompt stimulative action on the liver, drives the malarial germs out of the system, purified the blood, tones up the system and restores health. 50c at DuBois, Kolb & Co.

WOODVILLE NOTES.

Miss Laura Anderson of Paducah, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Thomas Moss, has returned home.

Several members of the Spencer family who have been quite ill are improving.

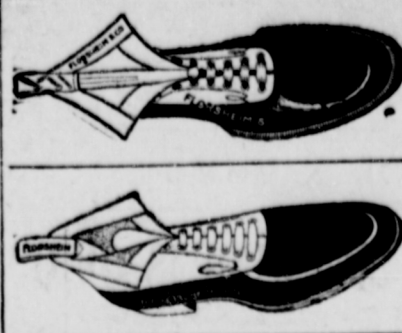

Miss Gertrude Gorley, of Hinkleyville, is the guest of Mrs. J. Murphy. The youngest child of Mr. Woods who has been quite ill is improving.

Miss Hettie Terrell of Blandville, is visiting Mrs. J. A. Stapp.

CURED PARALYSIS.

W. S. Baily, P. O. True, Texas, writes: "My wife had been suffering five years with paralysis in her arm, when I was persuaded to use Ballard's Snow Liniment, which cured her all right. I have also used it for old sores, frost bites and skin eruptions. It does the work." 25c, 50c and $1 bottles at DuBois, Kolb & Co.

French Lick and West Baden Springs

In the highlands of Indiana—a two hour ride from Louisville there flow wonderful healing waters, that you'd spend hundreds of dollars to enjoy if they were in Europe.

A recent visitor from Philadelphia, who formerly went to Carlsbad every year, said: "I do not see why anyone goes to Europe for medicinal waters. The water is as beneficial, and the scenery and surrounding country, the air and the opportunities for recreation are better; the hotels and all accommodations are much finer at French Lick-West Baden Springs"—and this gentleman is a native of Switzerland.

The splendidly wooded hills with the cool, invigorating air of these highlands where one can enjoy rambles in the depths of the forest, or rides and drives among the numerous bridle paths and roadways, afford pleasure for those who desire rest and quiet; while at the splendid and casinos one can have all the entertainment and pleasures possible at the most fashionable resorts.

THE GOATHERD AND THE SHE GOAT.

Find the Boy's Master.

A boy whose business it was to look after some goats, as night began to fall, gathered them together to lead them home. One of the number, a she-goat, alone refused to obey his call, and stood on a ledge of a rock, nibbling the herbage that grew there. The boy lost all patience, and, taking up a great stone, threw it at the goat with all his force. The stone struck one of the horns of the goat and broke it off at the middle. The boy, terrified at what he had done, and fearing his master's anger, threw himself upon his knees before the goat and begged her to say nothing about the mishap, alleging that it was far from his intention to aim the stone so well. "Tush," replied the goat, "let my tongue be ever silent, my horn is sure to tell the tale."

AN IRATE WIFE

She Assaults her Successor in Open Court.

A Divorce Had Been Granted and She Was Defeated by Her Husband.

Cairo, Ill., Aug. 27.—Wrought up to a frenzy because of the alleged bad treatment she had received from her husband, Mrs. Sophia Smeltzley attacked him in open court, and made a personal assault upon the woman she alleges robbed her of her husband.

Mrs. Smeltzley came here only a few days ago, to find, she says, that her husband, who had deserted her, was living with another woman. She immediately had him arrested and the case came up for trial in the county court before Judge Dewey. Smeltzley produced a marriage license, which showed that he was legally married to Mattie Miller at Jonesboro, Ark., some months ago, and as the Alexander county circuit court had given him a divorce from his wife Sophia last September, the court discharged him.

Wife No. 1 then attacked her rival and bore her down upon a table, and had it not been for others, who separated them, she would have done her violence. She gave her former husband a blow as he was leaving the room.

She states that the divorce was obtained without her knowing it, and that she will take steps to have it set aside, as it was obtained under false testimony. Her testimony is that she was married to John Smeltzley at North Manchester, Ind., in 1876, and that two daughters were born to them.

In 1894 her husband, who is a saw mill man, became infatuated with Mattie Miller at Hoovers, Ind. At that time he was interested in a mill there, and she worked in the office. Since then he has worked at various places in Kansas, Arkansas, Kentucky and Illinois, and Miss Miller has been in all these places with him. In 1900, Smeltzley stopped contributing to his wife's support, but the following year they became reconciled and arranged to live together again. However, Smeltzley went away and she did not hear of him again until she found him in Cairo.

PHYSICIAN AND DRUGGISTS.

Ferd & Sturgeon, a prominent drug firm at Rocky Hill Station, Ky., writes: "We were requested by Dr. G. B. Snigley to send for Herbine for the benefit of our customers. We ordered three dozen in December, and we are glad to say Herbine has given such great satisfaction that we have duplicated this order three times, and today we gave your salesman another order. We beg to say Dr. G. B. Snigley takes pleasure in recommending Herbine." 50c bottle at DuBois, Kolb & Co.

Mrs. Edward Rawls and sister, Miss Edwards, have gone on a visit to St. Louis.

MARRY NEXT WEEK

Miss Sophia Luttrell and Mr. John Bebout to Wed.

The Ceremony Will Be a Quiet Affair at Bride's Home Near Morganfield.

News reached the city today of the approaching marriage of Miss Sophia Luttrell, and Mr. John Bebout, both formerly of this city. The wedding will take place next Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock, at the home of the bride near Morganfield.

Miss Luttrell was bookkeeper for the Sutherland Medicine company here until a short while ago. She gained considerable newspaper prominence in the spring by holding the winning ticket in the automobile contest, conducted during the carnival. The fact that the winning ticket was given to Miss Luttrell by a young man from Princeton, who wanted it back when he found it contained the lucky number caused the matter to be very much discussed. Miss Luttrell held the ticket, however, and subsequently sold the automobile to Dr. Frank Boyd and Mr. F. M. Fisher. Dr. Boyd finally becoming sole owner. She is a charming young woman with many friends in Paducah.

Mr. Bebout is a brother of Mr. Louis Bebout of this city, and formerly resided here. He is at present bookkeeper for the Katterjohn Construction company, at Cedar Bluff. He is a bright and capable young man and is very popular in Paducah.

A WORM KILLER.

J. A. J. Montgomery, Puxico, Wayne county, Mo., writes: "I have little twin girls, who have been bothered with worms all their lives. I tried everything to relieve them, which failed until I used White's Cream Vermifuge; the first two doses brought four worms from one of them; the next two doses, twelve, one of them measuring twelve inches; the other child was only relieved of four worms. It is a most excellent medicine." White's Cream Vermifuge is good for children. It not only destroys worms, it helps the child to perfect growth, wards off sickness. 25c at DuBois, Kolb & Co.

TOBACCO NOTES

THE PRICE WILL PROBABLY SOON GO DOWN.

Nearly all of our local tobacco men are in Paducah today, says the Mayfield Messenger of yesterday.

There are only about 1,500 hogheads here now but Paducah still has over 3,000. It is expected that all of the tobacco on both markets will be sold before the season ends but that the prices will still decline until the last year's crop is disposed of.

The big buyers however think that the prices have reached the bottom.

Boards at Last Get Down to Business.

Preliminaries for Street Paving Settled at Called Meetings Held Last Night.

NOW UP TO CONTRACTOR

The council met last night and ratified the contract for street work and accepted Contractor E. C. Terrell's bond, also adopting Bannon brick.

Councilman Potter was elected chairman and the contract was read, specifying that Mr. Terrell finish the work by November 15, and imposing a $25-a-day penalty for each day over that time. It also stipulates that the contractor shall keep it in good repair for five years after completion.

Councilman Hummel wanted the provision as to a $25 penalty for each day over the time allotted for the completion of the work, stricken, but received no support.

The $20,000 bond required was furnished by the United States Fidelity and Casualty company represented by H. H. Loving and L. L. Bebout, who when their authority to sign the bond was questioned by Councilman Hummel, produced the proper authority. The bond was ratified.

The joint street committee then presented reports on the kind of brick to be used. The majority report signed by Chairman Hannan and Messrs. Chamblin, Kitchoff and Petter was for Bannon brick and the minority report signed by Mr. Hummel was for Galesburg brick, but the Bannon brick was adopted, Councilmen Hummel and Fowler being the only ones voting against it.

The question of returning checks to the bidders on the brick street work was taken up and the council decided to return the $500 checks deposited as an evidence of good faith, except the $500 Contractor Terrell first placed for signing the contract he subsequently declined to sign. It was voted to retain this one.

A contract with Mr. C. L. Robertson to gravel unimproved streets in Oak Grove cemetery was ratified over the objection of Councilman Hummel, who wanted the matter deferred.

The board of aldermen then met, with Messrs. Riglesberger and Troutman absent, and in a short time ratified the business transacted by the council, in its entirety.

BOYS WERE OUTCLASSED.

MAYFIELD PAPER POKES FUN AT THE CLUB THAT WENT OUT.

The Mayfield Messenger is disposed to poke fun at the Paducah boys who went to Mayfield Tuesday to play the Mayfield team. It says:

The first game took place Tuesday afternoon. The park was full of people, expecting to see the best game of the season, but imagine their chagrin, when they found out that the Paducah nine consisted of only boys just budding into their teens and who knew very little about baseball and who are just out of school. It was soon discovered that they could not play ball and were only play things in the hands of our boys.

They were nice tender youths who thought more about the girls than baseball and whose names appeared as follows: Roscoe Reed, Roscoe Puryear, Marshall Puryear, John Brooks, Evans Frank, Maxey, Owsley and Hugg.

The visitors were such poor players that they gave up at the end of the sixth inning when the score stood 15 to 3 in favor of Mayfield. The games for Wednesday and Thursday were declared off and the boys were told to go home and sin no more, put if they ever learned how to play ball please let them know and they should have a royal game.

JOINT DEBATE ANNOUNCED.

DIED IN HER ARMS

TRAGEDY IN WHICH AN ACTRESS KNOWN HERE TAKES PART.

Miss Louise Henry, who was sourette in the English Stock Company the early part of the season last year at the Kentucky and who has many friends in Paducah, was one of the principals in a tragedy in St. Louis in which her sweetheart was killed. The Globe-Democrat says:

"The loss of a woman's hat from a train on the scenic railway at West End Heights caused the death of George Kyler, an employe at the Heights, who was passenger on the same train.

"When the gripman slowed up his train for the apparent purpose of recovering the hat, Kyler stepped off. He was immediately struck by a train on another track and suffered injuries from which he died.

"After dressing his wounds, Dr. Lutz turned Kyler over to Miss Louise Henry's care. Miss Henry is a character sketch artist, at present filling an engagement at the heights. Kyler died in her arms. He was unconscious until a few minutes before the end came, and talked with Miss Henry.

"Several times he asked Miss Henry about his mother. He was anxious to see her, he said. Before the mother could be notified of the accident, however, Kyler was dead."

PUBLIC SCHOOL NOTICE.

The public schools will open Monday, September 14, 1903. All children that were six years old on or before July 1, 1903, and have been successfully vaccinated, and are citizens of Paducah, are entitled to free tuition.

The superintendent will be in his office every morning from eight to nine o'clock, for the purpose of issuing entrance cards to new pupils. Pupils not already provided with entrance cards, should get them now, and not wait until just before school opens, as the office will then be crowded.

Respectfully,

CHAS. M. LEAKE, Pres.

O. B. HATFIELD, SUPT.

FREE TRIPS TO ST. LOUIS WORLD'S FAIR.
ALL EXPENSES OF THE 120 MOST POPULAR SCHOOL TEACHERS IN THE STATE PAID.

School children and public generally invited to vote to determine the most popular in every county. Votes ten cents each, ten cast at once. All money over and above trip expenses of teachers to go into erection of the Kentucky Building at the Exposition. Every voter then given the satisfaction of knowing a worthy cause and important object have been aided, at the same time a favorite teacher has received recognition. Contest conducted under auspices of Educational Exhibit Committee of Kentucky Exhibit Association. The organization formed to raise $50,000 for a Kentucky Building and full display of the State's products and resources at the Fair, the Legislature having failed to make an appropriation. The contest is open to all State, whether teacher in public or private schools, or member of faculty of academy, college or university, medical, dental or theological institution, protestant or catholic denominational school, is eligible to election. Members of the Educational Exhibit Committee alone excepted.

Names of all school children voting to be enrolled in the Kentucky Building at the Exposition. Kentucky will have an educational exhibit occupying 2,500 square feet of space in the Palace of Education. The Exposition is to be the greatest international event in the world's history. The 120 teachers chosen will be lucky indeed in being tendered this trip to the Fair. Every county elects its own most popular educator. The county notices are being given at all. All of the number of votes will be allowed to send two teachers—the most popular and the second most popular.

THE VOTES WILL BE TEN CENTS EACH, TEN CONSTITUTING A BALLOT. At ten cents each every school child in the State will be able to cast at least one vote for his or her favorite teacher. But the voting will not be confined to school children.

PARENTS OF PUPILS OR ANY OF THEIR FRIENDS MAY VOTE. The purpose of the Association being to elect the most popular school teacher in each county, as so considered by the public generally, as well as by the school children. Ballots contain ten spaces, so clubs of ten pupils may be arranged and each giving ten cents be credited with his or her vote. If one person desires to cast ten votes, it may be done by writing his or her name on one of the spaces and remaining one dollar. It is not required that the name of the person voting be given at all. All of the spaces for voters' names may be left blank. The Association wants, however, to enroll in the Kentucky Building at St. Louis next year the name of every child who cast one or more votes in the contest. Pupils are asked therefore to sign their names plainly to the ballots.

ALL EXPENSES OF THE TEACHERS WILL BE PAID BY THE ASSOCIATION. This will include railroad transportation from Louisville to St. Louis and return, board at one of the best hotels in the city for six days and admission to the exposition grounds for six days.

THREE PARTIES WILL BE MADE UP FROM THE MOST POPULAR TEACHERS to make the trip more profitable and more enjoyable. Each of these parties will consist of forty (40) teachers. This would make a total of 1,200 teachers. Two dollars each, twenty votes; three dollars each, thirty votes; four dollars each, forty votes; five dollars each, fifty votes; ten dollars each, one hundred votes; one hundred dollars each, one thousand votes.

ALL TEACHERS IN THE STATE STAND ON AN EQUAL FOOTING in this contest. The teacher with only twenty pupils may receive more votes than the teacher with five or six pupils as many enrolled in his or her school, because the voting is not confined to children. The public will be an important factor.

Votes may be cast for any person who taught school during 1902 or is teaching now. This gives the teacher and a few pupils a chance to be elected in November or December, the opportunity to be voted for during the vacation period.

ANY NUMBER OF BALLOTS MAY BE CAST AT ONE TIME. There is no limit. The more ballots sent in for any one teacher the more votes he or she will be credited with.

ONE DOLLAR CASTS TEN VOTES; TWO DOLLARS CASTS TWENTY VOTES; THREE DOLLARS CASTS THIRTY VOTES; FOUR DOLLARS CASTS FORTY VOTES; FIVE DOLLARS CASTS FIFTY VOTES; TEN DOLLARS CASTS ONE HUNDRED VOTES; ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS CASTS ONE THOUSAND VOTES.

All of the money received in this contest, over and above that used in defraying expenses of the 120 most popular teachers of the State on their trips to the World's Fair, will go for the erection of a Kentucky Building at the exposition; so every voter in this contest may have the additional satisfaction of knowing that he has aided a worthy cause.

THE STANDING OF THE CONTENTANTS WILL BE PRINTED FREQUENTLY in each county to show his or her friends how the race is being run. Begin voting now for your favorite school teacher. The votes will be counted under the supervision of the Educational Exhibit Committee of the Association. The personnel of this committee is as follows: Prof. H. G. Brownell, Louisville, Chairman; Prof. H. V. McChesney, Frankfort; Prof. R. P. Hallock, Louisville; Prof. W. M. Bartholomew, Louisville; Prof. F. Paul Anderson, Lexington; Dr. Chase Palmer, Danville; President William Dindwille, Jackson; Dr. W. G. Frost, Berea; Dr. B. B. Huntton, Louisville; Dr. E. Y. Mullins, Louisville; Dr. Arthur Yager, Georgetown; Superintendent M. A. Cassidy, Lexington; Superintendent S. L. Frogge, Frankfort; Prof. C. J. Crabbe, Ashland; Prof. McKinstry Rhoads, Owensboro; Prof. T. S. Alley, Bellevue; Prof. C. C. Cherry, Bowling Green; Prof. Wm. Spencer, Louisville; Miss Pattie S. Hill, Louisville; Mrs. Emily E. Bracken, Louisville; and Mr. B. Tucker, Louisville. Members of the Educational Committee are not eligible to election in this contest.

REMEMBER EVERY COUNTY ELECTS ITS OWN FAVORITE TEACHER. Competition between counties only applies to the race for the 120th trip, the county, outside of Jefferson, casting the largest number of votes being granted the distinction of sending two teachers. The result will be announced in every paper in the state, and, in addition to this, a congratulatory message will go to the teacher elected in each county. Later the details of the trip will be arranged, each teacher chosen being given the privilege of selecting the month—June, July or August, 1904—in which he or she wants to make the trip.

PADUCAH'S OPPORTUNITY.

The Commercial club has been working on some propositions looking towards the location of new industries in Paducah, for several weeks and has two of them in something like tangible shape, and it only requires a little assistance to consummate them.

One proposition, the Rex Manufacturing company, requires the floating of about $10,000 more of stock, $40,000 of the $50,000 asked for having been already subscribed, and the other is the floating of $4,500 of bonds.

The first proposition has been set before the public several times and this time The Sun will only say it is one that should not, by any means, be allowed to drop. This company already has a well established business in Chicago, jobbing picture frames. It is its intention to erect a factory at this point to make the frames also. Heretofore the biggest proportion of its requirements has been furnished by other frame factories, but the company believes, and is confident, it can save a good deal of money by manufacturing the frames in a plant of its own. As evidence of that fact is its intention to put $150,000 into a plant. It has propositions from a good many cities but prefers Paducah. It desires to have $50,000 of the capital of $300,000 for which it will be capitalized, placed in Paducah to get local people to take an interest in its affairs, and to assure proper consideration and attention to the business done at this end. The factory here would start with a capacity of one thousand frames daily, all sold, which would assure beyond doubt, its financial success.

The second proposition is a novelty and game industry. This company is capitalized at $16,000, and will put that amount into machinery. It asks that Paducah people build the plant and furnish a site which will cost $9,000 for which they are to receive first mortgage bonds on the plant and machinery bearing 6 per cent interest. The company has had offers from other cities of that nature but prefers to come to Paducah because of its ideal situation as a shipping and raw material point. The plant will use only the short timber and culls, and will use much that now goes to waste. It, too, has orders for all the business it could do with a plant like the one to be erected.

Now both of these propositions are good ones, and will be of great benefit to Paducah. The Rex company will work, probably, 100 men, at the start, and the other concern would start with a fair size force. It certainly looks as if our monied people would be willing to help out on these propositions. The Sun, for one, believes they will. Paducahans have ever been ready to lend their assistance to legitimate propositions as they recognize that in this way a city is built and they will no doubt see that these two factories are secured.

The first one, as stated above, requires the floating of only $10,000 more stock, and the second $4,500 of bonds. Both are amply secured and are first class investments aside from a benefit to Paducah.

If you are for a Greater Paducah and have not subscribed to these propositions do so at once. It's the "long pull, the strong pull and the pull, altogether," that makes for a city's progress.

OUR CHANCE TO WIN.

The democrats of Paducah are now drawing up in battle array, and the prospects are for a Kilkenny fight that will leave little of either faction. They have suggested, or will before the primary, the lines on which the fight is to be made, and the situation is consequently such that apparently there is little chance for them to win, no matter which faction is victorious in the primary. It is to be a primary according to reports, in which morality, not politics, will be paramount. There seems to be one element that is an avowed enemy to the saloon and to a regulation of those vices and violations of the law that long experience indicates cannot be entirely prevented or eradicated, and another that professes to be broader in its attitude towards the saloon, or rather which is not, like the other, pledged to make a fight against what others consider their business interests. It is thus plain that with some it is a question of morality, and with others a question of business—of dollars and cents. With neither is it much of a question of politics, or of municipal progress in a commercial sense.

Now, as to the result. No matter which side wins, the other faction can do nothing under the rules and pledges of a primary, except but support the nominees. Yet whichever side wins the other cannot consistently support it in the final struggle, although honor bound to do so. If those pledged to the 10:30 closing law are nominated, as a matter of business the other side cannot support them. If the so-called whiskey ticket wins the Good Government league people cannot conscientiously support men who represent what they believe to be inimical to the moral welfare of the city and people. It is very clear, therefore, that these factions will be pledged to support the nominee if they go into the primary, and yet from a standpoint of principle or business they will be unable to do it. They will have to choose between two evils.

One faction have to decide whether to adhere to the somewhat vague and very often violated rule to support the nominees, or to vote against the nominees because it believes their election would be a menace to the city and people. If they prefer fulfilling a tacit pledge to support the nominee although he stands for something they strenuously and conscientiously oppose, to voting against him and thus defeat what they believe to be wrong, they will support the ticket. If they do not they will support some other one, or spare their consciences by staying at home.

The other faction should the members lose in the primary, will have to choose between voting for men who are said to be pledged to a policy that will injure their business and entail the loss of money, or violate their primary pledge by voting instead to install men in office who are not pledged to fight what they conceive to be their business interests. It will be a choice between a delicate moral obligation and a proposition of hard cash and business.

The conclusion readily reached is that the Republicans of Paducah with a ticket of good men, ought to win easily. If the Republicans will nominate men who are not extremists and have no hobbies to ride or axes to grind, the people who hold the balance of power in Paducah—the business interests and the men who are pushing Paducah ahead—will be quick to rally to their support. It seems plain that one faction of these Democratic nominees cannot support the other, and they will naturally turn to something they can support, or else remain at home, which will be nearly as good. It is now up to the Republicans to put out able, popular business men who will work for the city's interests, and whose every effort will be to serve the city and see that the greatest good to the greatest number obtains in all public matters.

Some of the Democratic candidates for city office appear to be imbued with the innocent delusion that after the primary the city committee will meet and prorogue the remains of the primary fund among them. They are destined to be sadly disillusioned, it appears. If the committee hadn't wanted the money it doubtless would not have held the candidates up for it. Look at this, gentlemen who want to be under the rooster. The assessment of candidates, if they all paid, and it is presumed they did, brought-in for holding the primary about $586. The cost of the primary is $8 for election officers and $2 for rent, for each of the 13 voting precincts, a total of $130. Outside the incidentals for hauling, boxes, etc., which can be paid for many times over with $20, there is nothing left to pay for but the printing. A capable job printer of the city who has printed the ballots himself states that they can be printed at a profit for $50. It may be, however, that some one intends to get in a graft on the printing. When one election was held a few years ago a local printer is alleged to have given the others a bonus not to bid on the ballots, and he got the work at a good steep figure while the candidates paid the bill. This primary business is going to make many of the Democrats sore, and of course the Republicans regret it! We feel sorry for our Democratic friends who have thus been gouged, however, for the privilege of trying to get under the rooster in the November election. We know they will be defeated in the "windup" if they are not in the primary, and hate to see them throw their money away.

It should be gratifying to every good citizen of Paducah to learn that a good quality of brick has been adopted for paving the streets. The tax payers favor good material for street improvements, and the Sun has been alone in its fight for it. The other local organs have had nothing to say. It is presumably getting too near election for them to embarrass the men of their political party who are holding office, but are doing very little to benefit the people. No matter how good a friend to the people our contemporaries may be, they have not lately been dallying around the band wagon. It may have been only their peculiar method of transacting business but these city officials have certainly done a whole lot of "foolin'" around in the street improvement affair, for intelligent business men who didn't have some scheme on hand. We repeat, however, we are glad the city is to have good material. It is now hoped that she will see that the work is done right.

Ambition for Yankee Soldiers.
A Congressman from one of the border states tells an interesting story illustrating the makeshifts on which pension claims are based, and incidentally affording a laugh at the expense of his Northern colleagues. "A good old colored auntie," said he the other day, "recently came to me to plead for financial assistance. By way of emphasizing her husband's special claim to my bounty she said querulously, 'you done orter to had got my ale man a pension; dat's what yer orter had done!' Somewhat surprised I asked the old lady what her husband's claim on Uncle Sam's benevolence consisted in. 'He done go wif Marse Sherman in de wah. He done tote ambition for de Yankee soldiers.'—New York Tribune.

There was something lacking and I know that it was due to the fact that my food was not rebuilding my brain."

"About this time I began the use of the condensed food Grape Nuts and the result has been I can think and plan with some success. It has not only rebuilt my brain until it is stronger and surer and more active but my muscles are also harder and more firm where they used to be loose and soft and my stomach is now in perfect condition. I can endure more than twice the amount of fatigue and my nights rest always completely restores me. In other words I am enjoying life and I attribute it to the fact that I have found a perfect food." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Powder Explosion in Missouri Killed Three Men Yesterday.

RAT BITE CAUSES DEATH.

FLAGMAN KILLED.

Cairo, Ill., Aug. 27.—N. J. Evans, a flagman on the Illinois Central between Cairo and St. Louis, was struck by a train in the yards at Mounds and killed. He had just come in off the road and was sent out to flag a train. As he had been on duty for fifty hours it is presumed that he fell asleep on the track. His body was found beside the track with his head crushed in. He lived at Newark, Ohio, and was a member of a Knights of Pythias lodge there.

THREE KILLED BY EXPLOSION.

Carthage, Mo., Aug. 26.—An explosion at the works of the Independent Powder company, four miles southwest of Carthage, on Center Creek wrecked the mixing building, killing three persons and injuring three others; one fatally. The dead are: W. O. Roll, superintendent; Ernest Pearman, Jerry Haworth.

When the explosion occurred Superintendent Roll and Pearman and Haworth were in the mixing room, which is secluded from the other ten mill buildings beyond a hill. Superintendent Roll's legs were blown off below the knees, and the bodies of Pearman and Haworth were shattered. Superintendent Roll was a well known manufacturer of powder, having been connected with Indiana mills for fifteen years before coming here two years ago.

SAFE WAS EMPTY.

Joplin, Mo., Aug. 27.—The safe intercepted here yesterday by Federal authorities in the belief that it contained $53,000 in gold, the property of Robert Boatright, under sentence to the penitentiary for foot race frauds in Missouri and other states, was opened and found to be empty.

DIED FROM RAT BITE.

Cambria, Wis., Aug. 27.—David G. Williams, aged 63, who was bitten by a rat two weeks ago, died today from blood poisoning, which resulted from the bite. Mr. Williams was a member of the house of the last legislature. He served in the civil war.

VESUVIUS OPENED

NO EARTHQUAKE, BUT A CLEAR FLOW OF MOLTEN MATTER.

Naples, August 27.—The people of Naples and the environs witnessed a remarkable spectacle at noon yesterday. One thousand feet below the central zone of Vesuvius the volcano opened like a huge mouth, out of which belched forth a stream of lava, which ran down the side of the mountain, and at first seemed to menace the observatory. This building, however, is protected in the direction of the stream by a mound of lava 200 feet high.

The eruption occurred without any warning whatever. There was no earthquake, detonation or rain of ash, nothing but a clear stream of lava and redhot stones, which were thrown to a height of 700 feet, producing an extremely beautiful effect seen from Naples.

The stream of lava, which is 15 feet broad at 11 o'clock tonight, had covered a distance of 2,700 feet. It deviated later from the direction of the observatory, which is no longer menaced. The only danger is for the new electric tramway up the volcano, which, however, has thus far not been touched.

The eruption already seems to be decreased. Dwellers near the volcano were seized by panic when the eruption began, and rushed to the villages of Portici and Resina, which are built over the ruins of Herculaneum. The alarm in these villages was somewhat quieted by the mayor affixing notices declaring that there was no danger and exhorting the people to remain calm.

The chief of police of Naples has gone personally to make a tour of the villages around Vesuvius in order to reassure the peasants and superintend any measures of protection which may be deemed necessary.

POLICE COURT

Bev. Fields Fined $25 for Hav. ing Fun With his Wife.

Ed Walbert Fined and Recognized—Case of L. E. Adams Continued.

Judge Sanders held a brief session of police court this morning.

Beverly Fields, colored, got angry with his wife and while he didn't intend to do her any harm, as he explained it, did admit that he chased her about with a knife. Judge Sanders fined him $25 and costs for his fun.

Cora Bulger and Ida Nard had a fight several days ago, and were recognized in the sum of $500 for their good behavior towards each other for a period of twelve months. It seems that the trouble arose over the Bulger woman's husband and Judge Sanders remarked that if she was jealous of him to get a divorce.

Ed Walbert was fined $10 and costs for having a fuss with his sisters and brother, and recognized in the sum of $500 for his good behavior towards them for a period of twelve months.

The case against L. E. Adams, white, for obtaining money by false pretenses, was continued. Adams is charged with securing $3 from a negro by claiming to represent a life insurance company. He states that he is agent for the company in question and had simply failed to turn the policy over to the negro.

Roxie Wilson, white, was fined $20 and costs for using insulting language.

A small negro boy named Cage was reprimanded by Judge Sanders for annoying the clerks in the Jake Biederman Grocery Co's store at Tenth and Trimble streets.

ELUDED PARENTS

Couple of Graves County Marry in Paris.

Father Started in Pursuit But Missed the Trail.

Mr. Marvin Sutherland and Miss Venice Harper, of near Clear Springs, Graves county, were married a day or two ago at Paris, Tenn. Quite a romance is connected with their wedding. Several days ago they started away in a buggy and the young lady's brother thinking they were eloping followed and in shooting at the young man struck his sister in the side, but the wound proved to be slight and soon healed.

They drove to Benton a few days ago and from there went to Paris. The young lady's father started in pursuit, but lost the trail. The young people reached Benton, and knowing they would be apt to be followed and they started to Paducah, took the train in an opposite direction and were married in Paris. The groom is a brother of Mr. Arch Sutherland, of the Cochran Shoe Co. here.

makes childbirth easy by preparing the system for parturition and thus shortening labor. The painful ordeal is robbed of its terrors, and the danger lessened to both mother and child; the time of confinement is shortened, the mother rested, and child fully developed, strong and healthy. Morning sickness, or nausea arising from pregnancy, is prevented by its use. As pregnancy advances, the breasts enlarge, become swollen and hard. Long before the child is born, they are preparing for the secretion of milk. It is important that they receive early attention. Mother's Friend softens the skin and facilitates the secretion of Life Fluid. Undeveloped breasts, hard-caked shortly after delivery, are the result of non-treatment, and likely to culminate in Mammary Abscess, from which so many suffer excruciating pain and are left with these organs permanently impaired. Softness, pliability and expansion are given to the muscles and sinews, thus bringing comfort and causing an easy issue of the child. Try it. Of druggists $1.00. Our book "Motherhood" free. Amusing Mistake Made by Australian Woman Voter.

Female suffrage sometimes leads to amusing mistakes. A candidate at a recent election in Australia, where the women have votes, tells a story in this connection. The constituency was a seaport town, and one of the burning issues before the electors was the question of berthage rates. A woman voter came to him and asked whether he was in favor of imposing these berthage rates, because if he was she would take good care that neither her husband nor herself would vote for him. A little discussion of the matter revealed the fact that the woman was under the impression that the question of berthage rates related to a poll tax on babies. That candidate now doubts whether the average female voter is not under a delusion, or, perhaps, say, under a spell. —New York Tribune.

Christianity in Japan.

The Christians have already given to Japan one cabinet minister, two judges of the Court of Cassation, two speakers of the house of commons (one elected twice), two or three assistant cabinet ministers, besides a number of chairmen of legislative committees, judges of the appellate court, etc. In the present parliament the speaker and thirteen members are Christians; one of them was elected by a majority of five to one to represent a strongly Buddhist district. In the navy the captains of the two largest men-of-war are Christians. Three of the great daily papers in Tokyo are in the hands of Christians, and in several others Christians are at the head of the various editorial departments. The best charitable institutions are under Christian directors. The majority of religious persons among the middle classes of Japan are admitted Christians. The lower classes still cling to Buddhism, more through superstitious ignorance than from actual belief in it. The upper classes remain committed to the religious views of the emperor and court.

Why Hewitt Did Not Retire.

The fact that some rich men, who are amply able to retire from business, remain in the harness simply because they can't get out was illustrated in the continuous business career of Abram S. Hewitt. "Why don't you retire from active business?" he was asked one day. This referred more particularly to his iron interests. "I can't get out," he answered. "At least, I can't get out on terms which I feel it would be honorable to accept. I had a chance some time ago to sell out my Toronto works, but the condition was that they should be closed down permanently. This would have thrown about 500 of our men out of work; people who had been with us for years, and many of whom bought little homes in Trenton. I could not accept such terms, so here I am, with the burden yet on my shoulders, and I suppose death alone will relieve me of it." —Kansas City Journal.

Makes Casks of Corkwood.

A resident at Guelma, in Algeria, has taken out a patent for the manufacture of casks in corkwood. An interior coating isolates the contents from contact with the cork. A barrel of eleven gallons weighed thirty pounds instead of eighty pounds, which is the weight of a wooden cask of the same capacity. Cork being a bad conductor of heat and cold the necessity of adding alcohol for the preservation of wine would be unnecessary, and the liquid would no longer be subject to the fluctuation of temperature. In warm climates these casks might be useful for conveying ice, meat, fish or fruits. A great saving on the freight expense would also be obtained, considering a cork barrel weighs two-thirds less than a wooden one. The influence of heat can not warp the staves, consequently the hoops remain in place.

Good Marksmanship Needed.

In the days of wooden navies and brass cannonades seamanship was everything. The best of them was he who could most skillfully maneuver to bring the enemy within effective range of his guns and put his own ship in a position to rake that of his antagonist. When this had been accomplished the battle turned more on rapidity of fire and weight of metal than on accuracy of aim. Nowadays straight shooting is the sine qua non. To secure the highest possible efficiency in this respect is a matter of much greater moment than to add battleships to our navy that are not needed and which if poorly manned would be of comparatively little service.

Canadian Statesman in Washington.

The physical counterpart of King Edward startled a great many observers in Washington last week in the person of William Ross, member of the Canadian parliament and a resident of Port Perry, Ont. He was escorted into the Senate chamber by Dolliver of Iowa and was warmly welcomed. He was able to give the American statesman a piece of information in regard to a matter then under discussion. A difference of opinion had developed as to whether closure rules were in force in any of the Canadian parliamentary bodies. Mr. Ross said no such rule was known in either house of parliament in Ottawa, and Mr. Hoar thereupon announced the fact in the Senate.

APES SING IN CONCERT.

African Traveler Tells of a Remarkable Performance.

In the Zoological garden at Berlin may be seen a curious-looking ape. It is a member of the species known as "guereza."

Herr Schilling, an African traveler, shot it near Kilimandscharo, in German East Africa, but the animal was not badly wounded, and he soon succeeded in restoring it to health.

This is the first adult "guereza" which has ever been seen in captivity in Europe. Three young apes of a somewhat similar type, whose home is in Abyssinia, were captured some time ago, but died very soon after they were photographed.

An interesting fact about the "guereza" is that they hold a regular concert in their native woods every night, which, while not very musical, since it consists merely of a succession of growls, produces a startling effect on those who hear it for the first time.

GOD WAS NOT DISPLEASED.

How Little One Obtained Absolution for a Fib.

Little Dorothy Perkins was usually a truthful child. When she was not truthful she was plausible.

Coming in from her walk one morning she informed her mother that she had seen a lion in the park.

No amount of persuasion or reasoning wavered her statement one hair's breadth, so at night, when she slipped down beside her knee, her mother said: "Ask God to forgive you for that fib, Dorothy."

Dorothy hid her face for a minute; then she looked straight into her mother's eyes with her own shining like stars, and said: "I did ask him, mamma dearest, and he said: 'Don't mention it, Miss Perkins. That big dog has often fooled me.'"

NO ONE TO DO IT.

How Horace Greeley Qualified a Rather Harsh Remark.

Speaking of the traditional policy of the United States concerning South American affairs, Prof. John B. Clark of Columbia university tells a story attributed to Horace Greeley.

The relation was of a conversation between Mr. Greeley and an eminent Englishman on some diplomatic question in which the United States had asserted itself with some forcefulness, and Mr. Greeley remarked:

"The trouble with us is that we want a darn good licking."

"Yes, Mr. Greeley, you do," rejoined the Englishman. But his exultation was shortlived, for Greeley broke in, as if finishing his former sentence:

"But there ain't any one can do it." —New York Times.

Not "Equally Good."

His attention has been called to Brewer's Readers' Handbook as a comprehensive book of reference, and it was with the intention of buying this compendium that a well known citizen went into a store the other day and began rummaging among the books. Not finding it, he turned to the clerk, a young and inexperienced fellow and inquired:

"Have you a Brewer's Handbook?"

The latter fumbled nervously around for a while and then, producing a small volume, said:

"We don't have any book of that title, but I have one here that may be of equal service to you. It is the 'Bartenders' Guide.'"

Repatee in the House.

A recent interchange of fire between Col. Hepburn of Iowa, and Gen. Grosvenor of Ohio on the floor of the House: "Gen. Grosvenor—The gentleman from Iowa does not believe that any public man was ever sincere or honest in his advocacy of a proposition and always looks around for a selfish motive. That is because the gentleman himself has no other standard of morality than that. Col. Hepburn—I draw the line somewhere; I draw it at Ohio people. I do not propose to hold the gentleman from Ohio responsible for what he has said. I recognize the fact that I myself am getting old and that some day I will be senile."

A Mixed-Up Embassy.

Someone called up the French embassy in Washington by telephone and said he wished to know something about Marquis De Chambrun's wife. He was informed that there are four De Chambruns and he answered that he meant the one who married an American girl. The conversation proceeded thus: "Three of them married American girls." "I'm after the one who married a girl from Cincinnati." "Two of them married girls from Cincinnati." "Great heavens! Which one is coming here to join the embassy staff?" "The Marquis De Chambrun. 'I mean his wife.' " "He hasn't any wife; he is a bachelor."

Canada's Timber Lands.

The impression that British North America is covered with valuable timber is fallacious. Black walnut, red cedar and white oak are not found north of Toronto. A line drawn from the city of Quebec to Sault Ste Marie will designate the northern limit of beech, elm and birch. The north shore of Lake Superior will mark the northern boundary of sugar hard maple.

There are many places in the country of the Northern Pacific, some inexpensive, others better and more expensive, where one can spend the summer days pleasantly and healthfully. Among these are Walker in the Leech lake country, and Detroit and Battle Lake in the Lake Park region in Minnesota; Eaton's ranch, near Medora, N. D.; Hunter's Hot Springs in the Yellowstone valley, and Missoula and the Bitter-root valley in Montana; Lakes Pend d'Oreille and Cour d'Alene, Idaho; North Yakima in Eastern Washington, and Green River Hot Springs in the Cascades; Tacoma, Seattle, Port Townsend, Port Angeles and Victoria on Puget Sound, and many places along the Columbia river and on the Pacific Ocean from Portland as a center.

Those east of the Mississippi who wish a decided change should go to the Rockies or the Puget Sound and Columbia river and sea coast country. We can only hint at these things here, but write us giving particulars as near as you can, and we will try to give you the needed information to enable you to find what you want. MARY HARTWELL CATHERWOOD

(Based Upon the Mystery Surrounding the Fate of the Dauphin, Son of Louis XVI. and Marie Antoinette)

Copyright, 1901, by the BOWEN-MERRILL COMPANY

"Let me try," said Johnny Appleseed.

"No! You might break my key in a strange padlock. Hold it still, Johnny. Please don't shake it."

"I'm not shaking it," Johnny Appleseed answered tenderly.

"There's only one way of proving that my key doesn't fit," I said, and thrust it in. The ward turned easily, and the padlock came away in my hand. I dropped it and opened the book. Within the lid a name was written which I had copied a thousand times—"Eugene Madeleine Marie de Ferrier."

Still I did not believe it. Nature protects us in our uttermost losses by a density through which conviction is slow to penetrate. In some mysterious

A Shawnee sprang out of a ravine. way the padlocked book had fallen into strange hands and had been carried to America.

"If Eagle were in America I should know it, for De Chaumont would know it and Skenedonk would find it out."

I stooped for the padlock, hooked it in place and locked the book again.

"Is the message to you alone?" inquired Johnny Appleseed.

"Did you ever care for a woman?" I asked him.

Restless misery came into his eyes, and I noticed for the first time that he was not an old man; he could not have been above thirty-five. He made no answer; shifting from one bare foot to the other, his body settling and losing its Indian lightness.

"A woman gave me the key to this book. Her name is written inside the lid. I was to read it if it ever fell into my hands, after a number of years. Somebody has stolen it and carried it among the Indians. But it's mine. Every shilling in my wallet, the clothes off my back, you're welcome to—"

"I don't want your money or your clothes."

"But let me give you something in exchange for it."

"What do I need? I always have as much as I want. This is a serviceable coat, as good as any man need wish for, and the ravens feed me. And, if I needed anything, could I take it for carrying a message? I carry good tidings of great joy among the people all the time. This is yours. Put it in your pocket."

I hid the padlocked book in the breast of my coat and seized his wrist and his hand.

"Be of good courage, white double man," said Johnny Appleseed. "The Lord lift up the light of his countenance upon you! The Lord make his face to shine upon you and give you peace!"

He returned to his side of the fire and stretched himself under the stars, and I went to Croghan's quarters and lay down with my clothes on in the bunk assigned to me.

The book which I would have rent open at twenty I now carried unsealed. The suspense of it was so sweet and drew my thoughts from the other suspense which could not be endured. It was not likely that any person about Mont-Louis had stolen the book and wandered so far. Small as the volume was, the boards indented my breast and made me increasingly conscious of its presence. I waked in the night and held it.

Next morning Johnny Appleseed was gone from the fort, unafraid of war, bent only on carrying the apple of civilization into the wilderness. Nobody spoke about his absence, for shells began to fall around us. The British and Indians were in sight, and General Proctor sent a flag of truce demanding surrender.

Major Croghan's ensign approached the messenger with a flag in reply.

The women gathered their children as chickens under shelter. All in the fort were cheerful, and the men joked with the gush of humor which danger starts in Americans. I saw then the ready laugh that faced in its season what was called Indian summer, because the Indian then took advantage of the last pleasant weather to make raids. Such pioneers could speak lightly even of powwowing time, the first pleasant February days, when savages held councils before descending on the settlements.

Major Croghan and I watched the parley from one of the blockhouses that bastioned the place. Before it ended a Shawnee sprang out of a ravine and snatched the ensign's sword. He gave it back reluctantly, and the British flag bearer hurried the American within the gates.

General Proctor regretted that so fine a young man as Major Croghan should fall into the hands of savages who were not to be restrained.

"When this fort is taken," said Croghan on hearing the message, "there will be nobody left in it to kill."

British gunboats drawn up on the Sandusky river and a howitzer on the shore opened fire and cannonaded all day with the poor execution of long range artillery. The northwestern angle of the fort was their target. Croghan foresaw that the enemy's intention was to make a breach and enter there. When night came again his one 6 pounder was moved with much labor from that angle into the southwest blockhouse as noiselessly as possible. He masked the embrasure and had the piece loaded with a double charge of slugs and grapeshot and half a charge of powder. Perhaps the British thought him unprovided with any heavy artillery.

They were busy themselves bringing three of the ineffectual 6 pounders and the howitzer under darkness within 250 yards of the fort, giving a background of woods to their battery. About dawn we saw what they had been doing. They concentrated on the northwest angle, and still Croghan replied only with muskets, waiting for them to storm.

So it went on all day, the gun proof blockhouse enduring its bombardment and smoke thickening until it filled the stockade as water fills a well and settled like fog between us and the enemy. An attack was made on the southern angle where the cannon was masked.

"This is nothing but a feint," Croghan said to the younger officers.

While that corner replied with musketry he kept a sharp lookout for the safety of the northwest blockhouse.

One soldier was brought down the ladder and carried through the murky pall to the surgeon, who could do nothing for him. Another turned from a loophole with blood upon him, laughing at his mishap, for the grotesqueness and inconvenience of a wound are sometimes more swiftly felt than its pain. He came back presently with his shoulder bandaged and resumed his place at the loophole.

The exhilaration of that powder atmosphere and its heat made soldiers throw off their coats, as if the expanding human body was not to be confined in wrappings.

In such twilight of war the twilight of nature overtook us. Another feint was made to draw attention from a heavy force of assailants creeping within twenty paces, under cover of smoke, to surprise the northwest blockhouse.

Musketry was directed against them. They hesitated. The commander led a charge and himself sprang first into the ditch. We saw the fine fellows leaping to carry the blockhouse, every man determined to be first in making a breach. They filled the ditch.

This was the instant for which Croghan had waited. He opened the port-hole and unmasked his exactly trained cannon. It enfiladed the assailants, sweeping them at a distance of thirty feet; slugs and grapeshot hissed, spreading fan rays of death! By the flash of the reloaded 6 pounder we saw the trench filled with dead and wounded.

The besiegers turned.

Croghan's sweating gunners swabbed and loaded and fired, roaring like lions. The Indians, of whom there were nearly a thousand, were not in the charge, and when retreat began they went in panic. We could hear calls and yells, the clatter of arms and a thumping of the earth; the strain of men tugging cannon ropes; the swift withdrawal of a routed force.

Two thousand more Indians, approaching under Tecumseh, were turned back by refugees.

Croghan remarked as we listened to the uproar, "Fort Stephenson can hardly be called untenable against heavy artillery."

Then arose cries in the ditch which penetrated to women's ears. Neither side was able to help the wounded there. But before the rout was complete Croghan had water let down in buckets to relieve their thirst and ordered a trench cut under the pickets of the stockade. Through this the poor wretches who were able to crawl came in and surrendered themselves and had their wounds dressed.

By 3 o'clock in the morning not a British uniform glimmered red through the dawn. The noise of retreat ended. Pistols and muskets strewed the ground. Even a sail boat was abandoned on the river holding military stores and the clothing of officers.

"They thought General Harrison was coming," laughed Croghan as he sat down to an early breakfast, having relieved all the living in the trench and detailed men to bury the dead. "We have lost one man and have another under the surgeon's hands. Now I'm ready to appear before a court martial for disobeying orders."

"You mean you're ready for your immortal page in history?"

"Paragraph," said Croghan, "and the dislike of poor little boys and girls who will stick their fists in their eyes when they have to learn it at school."

Intense manhood ennobled his long, animated face. The president afterward made him a lieutenant colonel, and women and his superior officers praised him, but he was never more gallant than when he said:

"My uncle, George Rogers Clark, would have undertaken to hold this fort, and, by heavens, we were bound to try it!"

The other young officers sat at mess with him, hilarious over the outcome, picturing General Proctor's state of mind when he learned the age of his conqueror.

None of them cared a rap that Daniel Webster was opposing the war in the house of representatives at Washington and declaring that on land it was a failure.

A subaltern came to the mess room door, touching his cap and asking to speak with Major Croghan.

"The men working outside at the trenches saw a boy come up from the ravine, sir, and fall every few steps, so they've brought him in."

"Does he carry a dispatch?"

"No, sir. He isn't more than nine or ten years old. I think he was a prisoner."

"Is he a white boy?"

"Yes, sir, but he's dressed like an Indian."

"I think it unlikely the British would allow the Shawnees to burden their march with any prisoners."

"Somebody had him, and I'm afraid he's been shot either during the action or in the retreat. He was hid in the ravine."

"Bring him here," said Croghan.

A boy with blue eyes set wide apart, hair clinging brightly and moistly to his pallid forehead, and mouth corners turning up in a courageous smile, entered and stood erect before the officer. He was a well made little fellow. His tiny buckskin hunting shirt was draped with a sash in the Indian fashion, showing the curve of his naked hip. Down this a narrow line of blood was moving. Children of refugees, full of pity, looked through the open door behind him.

"Go to him, Shipp," said Croghan as the boy staggered. But he waved the ensign back.

"Who are you, my man?" asked the major.

"I believe," he answered, "I am the Marquis de Ferrier."

CHAPTER XXIII.

HE pitched forward, and I was quicker than Ensign Shipp. I set him on my knees, and the surgeon poured a little watered brandy down his throat.

"Paul!" I said to him.

"Stand back!" ordered the surgeon as women followed their children, crowding the room.

"Do you know him, Lazarre?" asked Croghan.

"It's Mme. de Ferrier's child."

"Not the baby I used to see at De Chaumont's? What's he doing at Fort Stephenson?"

The women made up my bunk for Paul, and I laid him in it. Each wanted to take him to her care. The surgeon sent them to the cook house to brew messes for him and stripped the child, finding a bullet wound in his side. Probing brought nothing out, and I did not ask a single question.

The surgeon turned everybody out but me and looked in by times from his hospital of British wounded. I wiped the boy's forehead and gave him his medicine, fanning him all day long. He lay in stupor, and the surgeon said he was going comfortably and would suffer little.

I had him all that night for my own, putting every other thought out of mind and absorbing his presence. His forehead and his face lost their burning heat with the coolness of dawn, which blew our shaded candle, flowing from miles of fragrant oaks.

He awoke and looked all around the cabin. I tried to put his opiate into his mouth, but something restrained me. I held his hand to my cheek.

"I like you," he spoke out. "Don't you think my mother is pretty?"

I said I thought his mother was the most beautiful woman in the world. He curled up his mouth corners and gave me a blue eyed smile.

"My father is not pretty, but he is a gentleman of France."

"Where are they, Paul?"

He turned a look upon me without answering.

"Paul," I said brutally, "tell me where your father and mother are."

He was so far gone that my voice recalled him. He simply knew me as a voice and a presence that he liked.

"With poor old Ernestine," he answered.

"And where is poor old Ernestine?"

He began to shake as if struck with a chill. I drew the blanket closer.

"Paul, you must tell me!"

He shook his head. His mouth worked, and his little breast went into convulsions. He shrieked and threw himself toward me. "My pretty little mother!"

I held him still in a tight grip. "My darling, don't start your wound!"

I could have beaten myself, but the surgeon afterward told me the child was dying when he came into the fort. About dawn, when men's lives sink to their lowest ebb with night, his sank away.

Before throwing myself down in the dead heaviness which results from continual loss of sleep I questioned the wounded British soldiers about Paul. None of them had seen him. Straggling bands of Indians continually joined their force. Captives were always a possibility in the savage camp. Paul might have been taken hundreds of miles away.

But I had the padlocked book which might tell the whole story. With desperate haste that could hardly wait to open the lids I took it out, wondering at the patience which long self restraint had bred in me. I was very tired and stretched my arms across the pillow where Paul's head had lain to rest one instant. But I must have slept. My hand woke first, and, feeling itself empty, grasped at the book. It was gone, and so was the sun.

I got a light and searched, thrusting my arm between the bunk and the log wall. It was not on the floor or in my breast pocket or in my saddlebags.

The robbery was unendurable. And I knew the Indian who had done it.

I went out and found the baldheaded and well beloved wretch. He was sitting with his knees to his chin by the evening log fire.

"Skenedonk," I said, "I want my book."

"Children and books make a woman of you," he responded. "You had enough books at Longmeadow."

"I want it at once," I repeated.

"It's sorcery," he answered.

"It's a letter from Mme. de Ferrier and may tell where she is."

His fawn eyes were startled, but he continued to hug his knees.

"Skenedonk, I can't quarrel with you. You were my friend before I could remember. When you know I am so bound to you, how can you deal me a deadly hurt?"

"White woman sorcery is the worst sorcery. You thought I never saw it. But I did see it. You went after her to Paris. So you had to come back with nothing. That's what woman sorcery does. Now you have power with the tribes. The president sees you are a big man! And she sends a book to you to bewitch you! I knew she sent the book as soon as I saw it."

"Do you think she sent Paul?"

He made no answer.

"Mme. de Ferrier does not know I have the book."

"You haven't," said Skenedonk.

"But you have."

"If she wrote and sent a letter she expected it would be received."

"When I said a letter, I meant what is called a journal, the writing down of what happens daily. Johnny Appleseed got the book from an Indian. That is how it was sent to me."

"If you will read it you will want to drop everything else and go to find her."

This was the truth, for I was not under military law.

"Where is the book?"

"Down my back," said Skenedonk. I felt the loose buckskin.

"It isn't there."

"In my front," said Skenedonk.

I ran my hand over his chest, finding nothing but bone and brawn.

"There it is," he said, pointing to a curled wisp of board at the edge of the fire. "I burned it."

"Then you've finished me."

I turned and left him sitting like an image by the fire.

CHAPTER XXIV.

BEFORE I left Fort Stephenson I wrote a letter to Count de Chaumont telling him about Paul's death and asking for news of the De Ferriers. The answer I begged him to send to Sandusky, which the British now despaired of taking. But, although Skenedonk made a long journey for it twice during the half year, I got no answer.

The dangerous work of the next few months became like a long debauch. Awake, we were dodging betwixt hostile tribes or dealing with those inclined to peace. Asleep, I was too exhausted to dream. It was a struggle of the white force of civilization with the red sense of justice. I wrestled with Algonquin dialects as I had wrestled with Greek. Ottawas and Chippewas, long friendly to the French, came more readily than other tribes to agreement with Americans.

Wherever I went I pushed the quest that was uppermost in my mind, but without finding any trace of Mme. de Ferrier.

The next April, after Lelaps, Napoleon Bonaparte was banished to the island of Elba, and Louis XVIII. passed from his latest refuge at Hartwell House, in England, to London, where the prince regent honored him and the whole capital cheered him, and thence to Paris, where he was proclaimed king of France. We heard of it in due course, as ships brought news. I was serving with the American forces.

The world is fluid to a boy. He can do and dare anything. But it hardens around a man and becomes a wall through which he must cut. I felt the wall close around me.

In September I was wounded at the battle of Plattsburg on Lake Champlain. Three men, besides the general and the doctor and my Onelda, showed a differing interest in me while I lay with a gap under my left arm in a hospital tent.

First came Count de Chaumont, his face plowed with lines; no longer the trim gentleman, youthfully easy and in the full maturity that he had been when I first saw him at close range.

He sat down on a camp seat by my cot, and I asked him before he could speak:

"Where is Mme. de Ferrier?"

"She's dead," he answered.

"I don't believe it."

"You're young. I'm going back to France for awhile. France will not be what it was under the empire. I'm tired of most things, however, and my holdings here make me independent of changes there."

"What reason have you to think that she is dead?"

"Do you know the Indiana territory?"

To Our Dorothy Dodd Customers and Also Those Who Have Never Worn This Celebrated Shoe.

DEAR FRIENDS:

YOU have the average health and the average strength of a woman of your age. Yet you find yourself unduly fatigued by a day spent upon your feet. This is not a question of your condition but a question of your shoes. It is just here that we can help you.

We have built our famous "Dorothy Dodd" Shoe on an entirely new plan

Not shaping it from guesswork measurements on a wood last, but using the actual bones, muscles and ligaments of the foot as the last for the shoe, working entirely from "X-ray" photographs. The result is the most remarkable shoe you ever dreamed of, and one which makes no day too long for its happy possessor. We can never make you realize its comfort till you try a single pair. Won't you do this today?

The New York Marine Journal says:

"The navigable course of the Ohio extends from Pittsburg to the Mississippi, a distance of nearly 1,000 miles.

The Monongahela is navigable a distance of about 150 miles above Pittsburg, and the Alleghany, which, with the Monongahela, forms the Ohio, is a present navigable about thirty miles above Pittsburg, while improvements under way and contemplated will give that stream more than one hundred miles of navigable waters. The Muskingum, in Ohio, contributes seventy five miles of navigable waters to the Ohio river system. In West Virginia the Kanawha is navigable for 150 miles, the Little Kanawha for 102 miles, and the Big Sandy for fifty miles. The erection of government dams and locks will add more than a hundred miles of navigable waters to these streams. The White river, in Indiana, is navigable for fifty miles, and in Kentucky the Ohio has in the Green, Kentucky, Tennessee and Cumberland, navigable tributaries with an aggregate length of more than 1,200 miles. The Ohio-Mississippi system from Pittsburg to New Orleans has a length of more than 1,400 miles, and the navigable tributaries of the Ohio have an aggregate length of more than 1,800 miles; giving this internal waterway a length of more than 3,200 miles, while improvements now under way or provided for by the government will add probably 300 miles of navigable waters, and within a few years this work will have established an all-year navigation stage on the Ohio throughout its entire course."

Theatrical Notes.

Mrs. W. C. Schofield's entertainment the latter part of next month promises to be quite an event in local musical circles, and tickets will go fast as the time approaches. Quite a number of tickets have already been sold, and it is yet a month until the entertainment will be given.

"Mr. Jolly of Joliet," in which Edward Garvie plays the title role, there is much to interest and amuse. Mr. Garvie has a quaint humorous personality that you can't get away from. He is funny even when doing nothing. His comicallities evoke laughter which is hearty and continuous. His singing and dancing are inimitable. The supporting caste is clever. Seat sale goes on tomorrow.

An excellent supporting company has been provided Edward Garvie, in Mr. Jolly of Joliet, including Miss Molly Thompson, the magnetic sourette; Gertrude Fort, the noted character actress; John Marble, well known in connection with the Hoyt farces; Frank Baldwin, the funny Rube" comedian, and others. A large bevy of chorus girls who can sing and dance are an attractive feature and there are many new and catchy musical numbers and specialties galore. Seats will go on sale Saturday. Performance August 31.

TIMBER FELL ON HIM

PAINFUL ACCIDENT TO A CAR REPAIRER TODAY.

Thomas Newton, a car repairer in the employe of the local I. C. wood working shops, met with a painful accident this morning while working under a trestle.

The trestle was about ten feet above him and he was working underneath it when a large and heavy piece of timber fell on his head. He was knocked down and rendered unconscious for some time.

The I. C. ambulance was secured and the patient taken to the hospital for treatment. A big gash was cut in his head but he soon regained consciousness and is much better this afternoon. He will not be able to return to work for a day or two however.

TODAY'S DEATHS.

MR. W. A. MARTIN CALLED TO GREENVILLE, KY., BY BROTHERS' DEATH.

Mr. W. A. Martin, the tobaccoist, was last night notified of the death at Louisville of his brother, Mr. D. T. Martin, aged 45. He had been in bad health and was taken to Louisville for an operation. His home was in Greenville, where the burial will take place, and Mr. W. A. Martin left the city this morning for that place to attend.

John Cross, the 3-year-old son of Mr. John Cross, died this afternoon at 2 o'clock, at the family residence, 1410 Harrison street, from diphtheria. The remains will be taken to Arlington, Ky., tomorrow morning for burial.

The burial of Mr. Hugh Moore, who died at the soldier's home in Dayton, Ohio, will take place at Oak Grove this afternoon at 5 o'clock. Services at the grave were conducted by the Rev. W. E. Cave.

Mrs. Alice Williams, aged 59, died yesterday afternoon at Third and Jackson streets after a several weeks' illness, leaving a husband and family. The burial was at 2 o'clock this afternoon at Bald Knob.

HAYES' BEECHWOOD EMULSO-HYPO WITH IRON

Makes Fat, Strength, Blood, Bone and Muscle.

If you are tired, broken down, despondent, worn out, pale, losing flesh, have no energy, don't feel like arising in the morning for the day's work, you should take a bottle of this wonderful medicine.

It affords me no little pleasure to testify to the wonderful properties of Hayes' Beechwood Emulso-Hypo with Iron, as it saved my life when the physicians said that I could not get well. After taking six or eight bottles I weighed 150 pounds. That has been ten years and I am still living in fine health. Wishing you success in its sale, I am yours truly.

Gentlemen: Having used Hayes' Beechwood Emulso-Hypo with Iron I cannot commend it too highly to others as a tonic flesh builder and to give strength, blood and muscle. It is superior to any preparation of which I have any knowledge. I take pleasure in recommending it. Yours truly, R. W. NEWSON, Pastor M. E. Church, South.

Read what the editor of the Southerner, Okolona, Miss., says: Shoffner-Hayes Medicine Co., Paducah, Ky. In 1901 my mother commenced taking Hayes Beechwood Emulso-Hypo with Iron, when the doctors said her lungs were so badly involved that she would not likely be alive but a few weeks. It improved her so rapidly that she was soon in good health for one of her years. I wish you the success you deserve with your Beechwood Emulso.

Suffered six years with a cough that threatened Consumption. Entirely cured by Beechwood Emulso-Hypo.

Shoffner-Hayes Medicine Co., Paducah, Ky. Dear Sirs: I suffered for six years with a cough that threatened Consumption. This spring I took six bottles of Hayes Beechwood Emulso-Hypo and it cured my cough, and I think I am entirely well. Yours truly, MRS. W. H. STEWART.
